GANNIN' ALONG IN THE BIG RACE

MORE than 1,900 runners took part the 13th Blaydon Race on a warm and sticky night.

Veteran Elswick Harrier Mike McLeod was first to the finishing line, with a time of just under 28 minutes.

But the race, last Wednesday, was as much about having fun as serious competition.

Before the race began, the runners sang a few choruses of the event's famous adopted theme tune — led by Blaydon's Harry Halfpenny who later completed the 5.9 mile course despite a recent hip operation.

At the start if the race, outside Balmbray's in Newcastle, bonny New Zealander Delwyn Davy was picked to receive the Blaydon Belle sash.

And retired sergeant Harry Yates was presented with an engraved silver plate in recognition of his work for the event over the years.

Meanwhile, in Blaydon, the Dixon Sports Kiddies Fun Run got underway, as youngsters tested out the last mile-and-a-half of the course before the seniors arrived.

When Newcastle Cathedral clock struck seven, the main Blaydon Race began and Morpeth's Ian Archbold set a fast early pace as the field rushed off along Collingwood Street and naked through the city centre.

Halfway along Scotswood Road veteran and Olympic silver medallist Mike McLeod kicked away from the pack, taking only Paul Cuskin with him as he headed towards Scotswood Bridge.

The lean Elswick runner was never caught as he swept to a new course record of 27.53s, beating his winning time of 1992 by six seconds to win the race for the sixth time.

Gateshead's Mark Smith was gaining on McLeod at the end, but he had left it too late and had to settle for runner-up spot ahead of Elswick's Ieuan Ellis and Chris Lees.

While McLeod lifted the winner's trophy and the award for the first veteran, Ryton's Tynedale Harrier Nicola Brown also celebrated a double victory.

She put in a great performance to win the ladies' race.

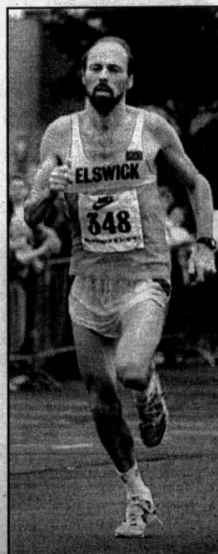

Other outstanding performances included Eleanor Robinson, who beat runners ten years younger than herself to take the first dame (lady veteran) award with her time of 34.30s, and 60-year-old Eric Appleby who came home in 150th place overall.

Blaydon Harriers Tony and Kirsty Wade took the coveted Me and Wor Lass Trophy for the first couple home, with Kirsty's form surprising even herself as she cruised over the line in fifth place.

The finishers streamed in to Blaydon to enjoy a supper of black pudding and tripe, a ham and pea pudding sandwich and pickled onions, washed down with an even more welcome can of Newcastle Brown Ale.
